ET GLOBAL INDIAN LEADERS: Honouring Excellence!

Renowned commentator Raman Bhanot

A leader shows direction, guides and inspires many and so it is imperative for them to lead from the front, especially in the current times of monumental challenges and change. In the honour of such individuals, Optimal Media Solutions (OMS) at the Times Group created a platform "ET Global Indian Leaders", the event aims to identify, encourage and recognize the excellence of the global Indian leaders. These business leaders have not just made immense contribution to the global economy but have also made an impact through contributions to their respective society as well. The study has been carried out by an independent Market Research Agency using the stated methodology for arriving at given result.

It is a celebration of professional and entrepreneurial excellence across multiple sectors and industries.

The event was hosted by the renowned commentator Raman Bhanot and was graced by Dia Mirza - Actor, Producer, UN Secretary General's Advocate for Sustainable Development Goals, UNEP Goodwill Ambassador, Eco-Investor, Green Entrepreneur Ambassador Wildlife Trust of India, Artist Ambassador Save The Children, Board Member Sanctuary Nature Foundation and Global Ambassador IFAW (International Fund for Animal Welfare), speaking at the event she said, "As a school girl, I had read these lines, A leader is a dealer in hope. These words which are widely attributed to Napoleon Bonaparte, have stayed with me through the years and continue to remind me that true power comes from what we impart to the world rather than what we take from it. The world is changed for the better by those who have hope and the courage to dream not just for themselves but for others. Today on this forum, I am very happy and honored to be inspired by many such leaders.

This is an unprecedented time in history and the health of our planet and humanity's survival are both urgent concerns that we must address individually and collectively. At such a time, I am drawn to ideas, businesses and leaders that give me hope for the future. As a woman and a mother who also happens to be a working actor, an entrepreneur and an investor, I now look for inspiration from those who have answers for the questions facing us today. Questions we cannot afford to ignore anymore. And when I see powerful women and men using their resources, their successful platforms, companies, and voices, to speak up for the planet, I feel hope. Thank you for doing what you do and showing that leadership is also about listening, caring and giving back."

Congratulations to all the ET Global Indian Leaders winners. We are extremely honoured to host some of the brightest minds from India at the Grand Hyatt Gurgaon. With its state-of-the-art designs, inventive culinary offerings, and impressive views, we couldn't think of a better venue to celebrate such high achievers."

Despite massive challenges that we have encountered over the recent years, it gives me immense pride to see how our innovators have thrived to reach this zenith. It is great to see the minds of these Global emerging entrepreneurs, influencers, and creators at work, and how they are shaping and bringing about global transformation."

ET Global Indian Leaders, goes beyond their excellence in business. The leaders who made the cut have made distinctive contributions to the people they serve. They have demonstrated extraordinary commitment, innovation, zeal, and compassion in delivering service to the community, which has led them to excel.

The leaders have grown and carved their mark in their respective fields and such kind of a recognition would give a much-needed boost to their determination, perseverance, and zeal which in turn would inspire and encourage many more young leaders in the future.
